

Granite Awarded $27 Million Waterfront Project in Seattle

WATSONVILLE, Calif.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Granite (NYSE: GVA) announced today that it has been awarded a $27 million sub-contract by Gary Merlino Construction Company to construct a portion of the Alaskan Way Project in Seattle, Washington. The project will be booked in Granite's second quarter 2019 backlog.

Scope of Granite's work includes construction of new bridge structures and soldier pile retaining walls that span over and along an existing BNSF railway alignment. Granite will also modify an existing pedestrian bridge, rebuild an elevated walkway and implement multiple seismic upgrades.

The Alaskan Way Project is part of a $724 million multi-year investment to rebuild Seattle's central waterfront. Construction is scheduled to begin in fall 2019 and will be complete by fall 2021. For more information visit the Seattle's New Waterfront website.
